
Coronado

POLTRONE

1966

Afra & Tobia Scarpa

Description

A classic evergreen first launched in 1966, the Coronado armchair is a symbol of relaxation. Offered with a high backrest, it ensures utmost comfort by means of a suspension system made from harmonic steel bands inserted into the back frame. Its revolutionary personality in terms of design and materials offers a prime example of B&B Italia's industrial culture. However, it is the product's sophisticated aesthetics, conceived as a trait-d'union between period furniture and a growing desire for modernity, that has decreed its success over time. An all-encompassing example of design, the Coronado collection, which also includes a line of sofas, emerged from the idea of matching an iron frame with the revolutionary technology of cold moulded polyurethane foam, introduced to the furnishing sector by B&B Italia.

Technical information

Internal frame

tubular steel and steel profiles

Internal frame upholstery

Bayfit® flexible cold shaped polyurethane foam, polyester fibre cover

Seat and armrest cushion upholstery shaped polyurethane of different density, polyester fibre

Back cushion upholstery

shaped polyurethane, polyester fibre cover

Feet

thermoplastic material

Cover

fabric or leather

Technical drawings

